Minority-owned small businesses are a pillar of the California economy. They account for 45% of all businesses in the state, support 10.9% of all jobs in the state annually, and generate 3.5% of California's economic output. In general, small businesses create local jobs, increase market competition, and build communities. Locally-owned small businesses also spend more locally than non-local business, generating higher local tax revenues and allowing more money to remain in the local economy.

The following findings represent the most detailed available estimates of California minority-owned small businesses and their corresponding economic, fiscal, and social impacts.

Statewide Impacts At A Glance

- $192.8 Billion – Minority-owned small businesses are estimated to contribute $192.8 billion in economic output to the California economy in a given year.
- $82.1 Billion – Minority-owned small businesses in California support an average of $82.1 billion in labor income.
- 2.56 million Jobs – Minority-owned small businesses support 2.56 million jobs annually across California.
- $28.7 Billion – On average, minority-owned small businesses in California generate $28.7 billion in tax revenue every year. Of that amount, $13.6 billion are state and local tax receipts and $15.1 million are Federal tax receipts.

Share (%) Of Minority-Owned Businesses By Region

- 754,000 Asian-Owned Businesses
- 185,000 Black/African American-Owned Businesses
- 932,500 Hispanic-Owned Businesses
- 6,900 Native American-Owned Businesses

Total of 1.9 Million Minority-Owned Businesses